

Conversation Finals Script

A: Hi gentlemen, haven't met you for a while.

K: Yeah, it's been about five years.

H: Nah, I think it's six. You were on a trip during last year's reunion.

A: Alright fellas, stop fighting. So K, where did you visit last year?

H: bet you it's some weird place.

K: Well you know. Too much pressure, I need some adventures in my life.

A: Still the K I know. What are some places you went to?

K: Some place with unique landscapes.

H: Just fuckin say it.

A/K: Chill out youngster.

K: Do you know there are five major landscapes in Taiwan?

A: I do. There 's mountains, hills, plains, basin, and....

H: I know, it's plateau.

A: Right, like the Taoyuan Plateau.

K: Nice. Do you know the special landscape?

A/H: Special?

A: Like the canyons in Taroko?

H: I've been there once, it was amazing. I heard there was a collapse.

K: In theory, as time passes, the balance of nature will be ruined.

A: and a new balance would be established.

H: You mean that when the land is eroded, there will be cracks and the fragile parts are exposed, causing the collapse?

K: Wow, that was great analysis, Professor Hank.

A: Yeah yeah, back to the topic.

K: Right, so other than canyons, there is also caves, volcanoes, limestones in Taiwan. I visited these places last year. It was astonishing, such as the Jian Long Mountain.

H: Hiking? That sounds boring.

A: Yo bro, Respect.

H: I was joking, I just don't like outdoor activities like hiking.

A: So what kind of activities do you enjoy?

H: The ones on plains.

K: Thank you, next. Seriously, is there any landscapes you are interested in?

H: I think it might be caves.

A: Oh, how's that?

H: It's cooler inside and it's full of surprises.

A: Like being jump-scared by a bat?

H: Maybe, or other safer surprises. What about you?

A: Let me think.

K: You've been to lots of places, any unforgettable ones?

A: Not in Taiwan though, like the Niagara Falls.

K: That would be unforgettable.

H: Magnificent, isn't it?

A: Yes, they were formed by glaciers cutting through the mountains.

K: Oh, never knew. Learned something new today. Definitely putting it on my bucket list.

H: So where are we visiting this year?

A: No idea.

K: Not a clue.

H: Well, let's finish our finals then we can think about it.
